

Gateway Pacific Terminal

“Two Mayors”

REV 2/15/11

:60 Radio

ANNCR: Mayor Gary Jensen of Ferndale is concerned about the economic trends in Whatcom County:

JENSEN: “We’re losing ground compared to Washington State overall. Personal income here is well below the state average.”

ANNCR: Mayor Scott Korthuis of Lynden agrees:

KORTHUIS: “In recent years, we’ve lost nearly two thousand good-paying industrial jobs in Whatcom County.”

ANNCR: Mayor Jensen...

JENSEN: “That’s why the Gateway Pacific Terminal project is such a positive development.”

ANNCR: Both mayors support SSA Marine and its plans for the Gateway Pacific Terminal at Cherry Point: A major export facility that will ship commodities to Asian markets—creating hundreds of permanent jobs and generating millions in new taxes for the region. Without harm to the shoreline or environment.

The facility will create hundreds of permanent jobs and generate tens of millions of dollars in new taxes for the region. While protecting our environment and marine life.

Learn more at www.GatewayPacificTerminal.com and see why Mayors Jensen and Korthuis are in agreement.

KORTHUIS: “Gateway Pacific Terminal is the right project at the right time for Whatcom County.”

ANNCR: This message sponsored by SSA Marine, a Washington company.